These commitments focus on increasing access to public services and increasing accountability through coordinated approaches to improve the quality and quantity of publically available information. Enabling frameworks and initiatives to promote civic participation and public trust underpin all commitments selected.

Component 1

Open Government in the Fight against Corruption

Tackling corruption is one of the most important objectives of the Albanian government and has been identified by the European Union as one of the five key priorities for the country towards integration with the European Union.

Anti-corruption initiatives and polices underpin the inter-institutional reforms necessary for the improved functioning and efficiency of all public and private institutions. These anti-corruption initiatives and polices will increase the integrity, performance and accountability of institutions, and promoting accountable governance that facilitates equitable and just law enforcement and improved public services for all citizens as well as the implementation of the rights and obligations of citizens in property issues.

Government efforts and progress

Since 2015 the Albanian government has adopted and implemented government strategies to address corruption, of which the first two national action plans 2015-2017 and 2018-2020 have been implemented. The third Anti-Corruption Action Plan 2020-2023, was approved by the Council of Ministers 1 July 2020 and builds on and strengthens the commitments and strategic objectives from the previous strategies with particular emphasis on enhancing integrity in public institutions to benefit the public interest.

To enhance accountability in the fight against corruption in 2017 the Albanian government established the role of National Coordinator against Corruption (NCAC) to the Ministry of Justice. The MoJ/NCAC oversees the preparation and development of policies, laws and by-laws specifically focused on anti-corruption and facilitates the coordination with stakeholders to collaborate in these processes. Having been designated to the role of NCAC the Ministry of Justice leads the inter-institutional commitment to improve public integrity and promote a culture and transparency and accountability for all civil servants and public officials across all levels of government, but particularly in the most vulnerable and corruption-sensitive sectors.

Collaboration with civil society

Active civic participation in governance processes is a necessity and a guarantee for maintaining the integrity of governance. The development of both of these anti-corruption mechanisms was done in close cooperation with civil society. The Ministry of Justice/NCAC collaborated with the Institute for Democracy and Mediation Albania<sup>1</sup> (IDM) in co-drafting the “Integrity Risk Assessment Methodology” and the “Integrity Plan of the Ministry of Justice, 2020-2023”, the co-creation process for the latter was guided by an open and consultative drafting process.

Within the framework implementing its good governance agenda the Ministry of Justice/NCAC has partnered with civil society organisations (CSOs) on campaigns to strengthen public education in the fight against corruption. In 2019, Albania held its first edition of the Week of Integrity, an initiative of the International Chamber of Commerce Netherlands, an awareness-raising campaign that focuses on the promotion of ethical behaviour, transparency, accountability, responsibility in business. This Week of Integrity acted as a meeting point for the public sector, the private sector, academia, civil society organizations, international partners, students, central government and local government to promote ethical behaviour across all workplaces, including government and civil society organizations. This first edition was joined by 28 partners who presented on their initiatives to promote ethical behaviour, transparency, accountability and responsibility.

Remaining challenges

The “Addendum to the Second Compliance Report Albania” by the Group of States against Corruption (GRECO) adopted in September 2020 concluded that Albania had implemented satisfactorily or dealt with in a satisfactory manner nine of the ten recommendations contained in the Fourth Round Evaluation Report. However, GRECO’s report emphasized that a vast judicial reform is still ongoing and encourages Albania to prioritize the completion of a comprehensive judicial reform process (regarding the appointment of judges and prosecutors/“magistrates”) in order to fight against corruption within the judiciary.

The implementation of corruption prevention mechanisms will be a continuing priority for Albania. The promotion and integration of anti-corruption reforms will require a significant shift in public administration culture. Developing and implementing integrity plans for all central administration institutions and their subordinates will require substantial political will and technical capacity and commitment within these institutions. Institutional resistance against integrity breaches will need to be strengthened and increased transparency and public access to official information and state activities will require commitment to the development and implementation of timely publication and reporting. Finally, the establishment and on-going administration of a Register of Beneficiary Owners will require substantial political commitment to the prevention of corruption through bribery and money laundry through mandatory transparency and traceability measures.

Commitment 1

Specific Objective: Integrity Plans

January 2020 – December 2022

Lead implementing agency/actor

National Coordinator against Corruption, Ministry of Justice

Commitment Description

What is the public problem that the commitment will address?

The potential abuse of entrusted power for personal benefit exposes all public institutions in all countries to the risks of corruption during the administration of their duties and responsibilities. Corruption weakens public trust in government, hampers legitimate economic activity, threatens public resources and income, and negatively impacts public administration and service delivery thus poses serious and far reaching risks to country development. In 2019, Albania was ranked 106/180 countries in Transparency International's Corruptions Perceptions Index. Furthermore, according to the 2019 Trust in Governance Opinion Poll of the 2500 Albanians surveyed 87% perceived petty corruption to be either widespread or very widespread, meanwhile 85% perceived grand corruption to be either widespread or very widespread.

As such, addressing corruption in presents a significant challenge that requires measures throughout all levels of the public administration. Since 2017, the Ministry of Justice in its role as National Coordinator against Corruption has lead the government's anti-corruption policy making efforts and the preparation of related laws and bylaws. As the lead responsible public institution for anticorruption the MoJ/National Coordinator against Corruption leads the inter-institutional commitment to ensure a higher performance and culture in the fight against corruption. This inter-institutional commitment focuses on the most vulnerable and corruption-sensitive sectors and strives to promote and ensure an impartial, honest and efficient public administration with civil servants and other public officials with high values, principles and integrity.

What is the commitment?

An integrity plan is essentially a risk management plan that focuses on the potential corruption risks an institution may face and consequently can be a powerful anti-corruption instrument. It identifies the primary areas of corruption risk for a particular organization and presents a strategy with concrete mitigation actions, measures and procedures in order to identify these risks and address them such that all levels of the institution operate with integrity. The success of an integrity plan depends both on the soundness of the methodology of its design – how suitable it is to the particular organization, how accountable it requires the individuals of the institution to be, the comprehensiveness of its scope – and its implementation and monitoring process.

This commitment establishes a framework for the development and implementation of integrity plans across the public administration. It focuses on establishing a methodology and the development and implementation of a leading integrity plan, through the Ministry of Justice, in order to promote not only increased integrity within the Ministry of Justice, but to also lead by example for line ministries and sub-ordinate institutions. The commitment prioritizes structured reporting frameworks and consultative and monitoring mechanisms that promote involvement of and accountability to citizens.

Objective:

This commitment aims to strengthen the integrity framework across the public administration such that all government institutions operate with integrity and functionality, in order to prevent corruption both across the board and in their daily activities. The commitment expects that by the end of 2022, in accordance with Inter-Sectoral Strategy against Corruption (ISAC) 2015-2023, all ministries and subordinate ministries will have drafted and begun implementing their integrity plan. The development and implementation of integrity plans that clearly define ethical obligations in the workplace across the public administration aims to build and maintain a work culture of ethical work practices.

Expected results:

- Integrity plan guidance and integrity risk assessment methodology for the central government approved;
- Ministry of Justice's Integrity Plan is approved and implemented;
- Integrity risk assessment conducted in Ministry of Justice subordinate institutions & integrity plans approved;
- Integrity risk assessment conducted in line ministries & integrity plans approved.

In cooperation with the Albanian non-governmental governance think tank the Institute for Democracy and Mediation (IDM) the Ministry of Justice/NCAC has co-created and adopted the "Integrity Risk Assessment Methodology in Central Government Institutions" (milestone 1; milestone 3) a guide/methodology on how central administration institutions should assess integrity risk in order to initiate activities to maintain the integrity and performance of public administration employees, at the executive and political level. Workshops will familiarize Ministry of Justice employees with best practices and procedures and train them on the application of assessment frameworks and tools in order to strengthen their technical in identifying, assessing and addressing integrity risks (milestone 2). Through the same cooperation the "Ministry of Justice Integrity Plan 2020-2023" has been drafted through an open and consultative process (milestone 4).

A roundtable with public institutions will promote integrity plans and explain the mechanisms and methodology and using the Ministry of Justice's Integrity Plan as a model document to line ministries and subordinate institutions

How will the commitment contribute to solving the public problem?

		(milestone 5). Following the consultative methodology developed by the Ministry of Justice subordinate institutions and all central public institutions (ministries) will each undergo their own integrity risk assessments to draft their own integrity plans in accordance with their respective areas of responsibility and specific risk factors (milestone 6; milestone 7). Once these plans have been approved, ensuring they meet all the guidelines specified in the methodology, an e-bulletin series will be produced to facilitate the transparency of the integrity plans and accountability to its implementation (milestone 8). To ensure proper implementation of the integrity plans -- from risk identification to risk mitigation -- they will be accompanied by a comprehensive monitoring process that follows a structured monitoring and evaluation framework (milestone 9). Monitoring of the implementation of the Ministry of Justice's Integrity Plan will be done in consultation with stakeholders and civil society organizations (CSOs) with feedback published and integrated such that the ministry is held accountable to the public as well as to internal systems (milestone 10). Evaluation reports will be regularly conducted and published in real time to be available for public comment (milestone 11) to then produce and publish the resulting recommendations to improve the implementation process (milestone 12). This monitoring process will be applied to the implementation of the line ministries and subordinate institutions' integrity plans once they have begun their implementation phase (milestone 13).

Commitment 2

Specific Objective: Beneficial Ownership Register

January 2020 – December 2022

Lead implementing agency/actor

Ministry of Finance and Economy

Commitment Description

What is the public problem that the commitment will address?

A beneficial owner is the real person or real people who own, control or benefit from a legal entity, such as a company or organization. Criminals can use an ‘anonymous owner’ or a ‘nominee’ as owner of a company in order to secretly move, launder and spend money from criminal activity. Often these secret companies are used to pay or receive bribes or engage in other corrupt practices or to avoid taxes.

When open registries require legal entities to disclose the individuals who own or control the legal entity, through direct ownership or indirect ownership through shares for example, money is more easily traceable. Therefore, it becomes more difficult to use legal entities to hide the profits from corruption and crime and therefore, reduces the attractiveness and ease of engaging in such criminal activity.

In Albania only the Law no. 9917/2008 “On the prevention of money laundering and terrorist financing” has included explicit mention of beneficial ownership. The legal entities under the jurisdiction of this law are obligated to identify the beneficial owners of their customers; however, this data has not been recorded in a designated national register. Furthermore, under current legislation legal entities registered in the Republic of Albania are not obligated to identify and register data on their beneficial owners in a designated national register. Thus, there has lacked the legal framework necessary to require by law the disclosure and register of beneficial owners of legal entities. Furthermore, without the adequate establishment of procedures and manner of registration and storage of the beneficial ownership data or the punitive measures for non-registration of beneficial ownership, criminal activity and corrupt practices can more easily be hidden.

What is the commitment?

This commitment outlines the pathway to establishing a functioning central register of beneficial owners in order to reduce the opportunities for hiding corruption and criminal activity and its profits. Through the development, approval and implementation of the law “On the Register of Beneficial Owners” (the UBO Law) and by-laws that explicitly define beneficial ownership, outline the requirements of legal entities to report to the register and the rules and procedures for the register itself the commitment establishes the legislative basis necessary for an effective beneficial ownership register.

The implementation of the register of beneficial owners will consist of an electronic database held by the National Business Center (NBC). All legal entities required to report and register their beneficial owner information will be obliged to submit information regarding their beneficial owners as outlines by the UBO Law or face financial sanctions for non-compliance. Thus, through this initiative, transparency regarding the real ownership and control of legal entities will be promoted and provided, as well as more data to which the public may have access.

Objective:

The drafting of the law “On the Register of Beneficial Owners” and the accompanying by-laws through a consultative process with stakeholders aim to establish the manner and procedures of data registration for beneficial ownership that accounts for the technical and operational challenges of identifying beneficial owners in Albania. The implementation of the register through this framework aims to establish a system that promotes transparency, due diligence and ethical practices and severely reduces the opportunities for money laundering, bribery, tax evasion and other forms of corruption.

Expected results:

- Approval of the draft law ‘Register of Beneficial Ownership’;
- Drafting and approval of the bylaws:
  - “On determining the manner and procedures of data registration for beneficial ownership, as well as the notification from the competent state authorities and from the obligated subjects”;
  - “On determining the rules for the functioning of the Register of Beneficial Ownership, on the way of communication in electronic form and exchange of data between the National Business Center and responsible state bodies, as well as for the manner and terms of communication between the Register of Beneficial Ownership, the Trade Register and the Register of Non-Profit Organizations”
- Implementation of the Law on the Register of Beneficial Ownership;
- Creation of the Register of Beneficial Ownership by the end of 2021.

How will the commitment contribute to solving the public problem?

In order to meet the 'Beneficiary Ownership' objective, MoFE efforts have focused on adapting the necessary legal basis. The Law no. 112/2020 "On the register of beneficial ownership" (milestone 1), fulfils one of the recommendations of MONEYVAL. The law partially approximates Directive (EU) 2015/849 of the European Parliament and of the Council, dated 20 May 2015 on the prevention of the use of the financial system for the purposes of money laundering or terrorist financing, amending Regulation (EU) No 648/2012 of the European Parliament and of the Council, and repealing Directive 2005/60/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council and Commission Directive 2006/70/EC. This law regulates the definition of the beneficial ownership; the obligated entities which must register the beneficial owners; the creation, functioning and administration of the Register of Beneficiary Ownership; the procedure and the manner of registration and storage of the registered data of the beneficial ownership as well as the punitive measures in case of non-registration of the beneficial ownership.

More specifically, this law applies to the reporting entities, legal entities registered in the Republic of Albania according to the provisions set in the law. The register will be set up and managed by the National Business Center and will be accessed only by the persons authorized to represent the reporting entity and by the competent state authorities. Any person wishing to obtain information from the register that is not freely accessible and public can only do so if they are able to prove that they have a legitimate legal interest in obtaining this information.

Another task derived by legislative base adaption is the drafting of bylaws, which will be realized with the financial and technical assistance of GIZ, specifically: the DCM “On determining the manner and procedures of data registration for beneficial ownership, as well as the notification from the competent state authorities and from the obligated subjects”

(milestone 2) and the DCM “On determining the rules for the functioning of the Register of Beneficial Ownership, on the way of communication in electronic form and exchange of data between the National Business Center and responsible state bodies, as well as for the manner and terms of communication between the Register of Beneficiary Owners, the Trade Register and the Register of Non-Profit Organizations” (milestone: 3) , are in the drafting process.

Finally, the Ministry of Finance and Economy and the National Agency for the Information Society must establish the Register of Beneficial Ownership until 2021 (milestone 4).

Component 2

Digital Governance: Accessibility in Public Services

Why is digital governance a priority for Albania?

In the modern globalized world, economic success and high quality of life are achieved in the countries that prioritize the utilization of technology towards the betterment of society through the expansion of knowledge and improvement of public services and their delivery. The development of the information society in Albania is a common objective across the public sector, academia, non-governmental organizations (NGOs), civil society organizations (CSOs) and the private sector. Achieving this objective requires strong coordination and harmonization between all sectors and actors. Therefore, for a small country like Albania, the development of knowledge-based economy, efficient and effective public administration and the inclusion of all citizens in the organization of public life, are of special importance.

In Albania, Information and Communications Technologies (ICT) is increasingly being utilized as a tool that for the improved transformation of daily life, organization of work, economic markets through new business opportunities and models, civic participation and interaction with government and towards an increasingly open and transparent governance model. In this perspective, special attention is paid to facilitating open data in public administration in order to make the data and information sources created by the public administration easily accessible to society, thus creating a precondition for promoting new innovative ideas, services and products.

The utilization of technology and innovation can help to optimize the operational processes in public administration and increase its efficiency. The simplification of public service provision, through effective electronic services and the interaction of information systems are expected to promote economic growth through reductions administrative burden and costs for citizens and businesses and increasing the efficiency of public service institutions.

Government efforts and progress

Since 2013, the Government of Albania has pursued a groundbreaking reform that reinvents the way public administration delivers services to its citizens towards the provision of online public services and the complete digitalization of the administration's work processes. This reform takes a citizen-centric approach and relies heavily on innovation and the use of information technology (IT) to improve standards, procedures, and the organization of service delivery. The objective of the public service delivery reform was to create an administration that focused primarily on the needs of citizens, with particular attention to be paid to addressing accessibility needs of marginalized groups.

Albania, on its way to the information society, has made considerable progress having prioritized investments in centralized infrastructures which have enabled public service standardization, lower maintenance costs, increase the quality of public services and products as quality assurance processes are performed. Albania has been the first in its region to develop and implement a Governmental Interoperability Platform. This Governmental Interoperability Platform provides the basic architecture that enables the exchange of real-time data and information between public administration institutions in a secure and reliable manner. The interoperability platform has been a necessary step to simplify services that the state offers to citizens, businesses and public administration, as well as the reduction of the number of documents required from citizens or business to obtain public services.

Albania's transformational progress has accelerated towards full digitalization of public services with the Government of Albania giving priority to expanding the provision of public services to increasingly facilitate online distribution where the Government of Albania is determined to return institutions to the service of fully focused on the citizens and has fully focused its attention on the transformation of physical counters into electronic ones. The national government portal e-government, e-Albania, is the only point of contact which acts as a main platform for government institutions to provide their services and thus operates as a consequence the only point of access for citizens 24/7. The portal, which currently offers more than 750 800e-services, is connected to the Government Interaction Platform which is the basic and essential architecture that allows the interaction between 53 electronic systems of public institutions. The e-Albania portal enables citizens to remember only one portal connection for finding public services on the Internet through an easily accessible interface that provides quality and fast electronic services for citizens and businesses.

From January 1, 2020, a new process for public services has started and providing 472 applications for public services for citizens and businesses only online through the e-Albania portal. By the end of 2020, more than 1200 public services or 95% of all applications for public services will be provided on the e-Albania portal.

On the other hand, the government has also implemented multifunctional and centralized systems where each institution has its own system module tailored to their specific needs. Legacy systems have been updated in recent years and many more have been newly developed. Significant investments have been made in the digitalization of physical archives, the improvement of physical infrastructure and the development of platforms dedicated to the circulation of legally valid electronic documents, the provision of relevant actors with an electronic stamp or signature, etc.

In 2017, having recognized innovation as a key pillar of public service transformation, the Agency for the Public Delivery of Integrated Services (ADISA) established an innovation lab. ADISALab was designed to be a network present in all entities within the public administration with the aim of enhancing the sustainability of service delivery reforms. Through capacity building and the promotion of best practices through set-up assistance, training, and mentoring. The lab looks to support the necessary change in the public sector's institutional and management culture to promote the continuous improvement of public service delivery and the longevity of these improvements. The lab is focused on a user-centered approach and uses tools and processes that help to speed up the creation and development process.

Furthermore, ADISA has created new standards for application forms. As a result, 349 application forms for 47 institutions have been standardized to ensure a unified approach to service delivery in all state institutions. In addition, ADISA prepared user-friendly service passports for each administrative service to simplify and standardize information about them. The service information passports ensure that citizens have a standardized reference to everything that is required to apply for a service, including the documents that are needed, the fees that must be paid, and the deadlines for filing. Standardized and easy-to-understand information is now available to the public for more than 1,127 public services, with the remainder under preparation.

For the first time, citizens receive information in a well-structured and predictable manner. They can find instructions through several means: the in-person service windows, the ADISA website, the ADISA Mobile App, or the e-Albania online portal. In addition, ADISA has established a unique phone number 0800 0118 (free of charge) for citizens to obtain information on public services. Before people even leave their homes, they can now get preliminary information about public services from that new national phone number.

In recognition of its significant progress in its public service transformation the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) recognized Albania in its latest "Overview of governance in the Western Balkans" highlighting Albania has a positive model for e-governance in the region. The report concluded that Albania has met all the requirements of e-government for efficient governance due to the country's application of digital services and digitalization of public services through the government portal e-Albania.

Collaboration with civil society

The Albanian government is committed to work for better, qualitative, open and transparent governance. With increasing public demands for a transparent and accountable government with more open communication with citizens and civil society in 2016 the Government of Albania with the National Agency for Information Society (NAIS) implemented the Electronic Register of Public Notifications and Consultations. Based on Law no. 119/2014 dated 18.09.2014 "On the Right to Information" and Law no. 146/2014 dated 30.10.2014 "On Public Notice and Consultation", NAIS has developed a platform to serve as a consultation place among citizens and decision-making institutions in Albania. Each project legal act is published on the electronic register for public notification and consultation. This register serves as a focal point of consultation and through this register provides access and provides the possibility of communication of all interested parties with the public body. This form assures and strengthens equality with regard to access to information and service, having specific attention and needs for specific individuals or groups.

In addition, in 2018 to further enable the Law no. 119/2014 dated 18.09.2014 "On the Right to Information" and the Law no. 146/2014 dated 30.10.2014 "On Notification and Public Consultation", developments towards the Open Data Portal began. Through its three main modules the Open Data Portal serves as an information window for the progress of the OGP project for Albania, as a consultation place among citizens and decision-making institutions in Albania, and as well as a unique source of publication of open government data. The Open Data portal is now operational and provides open data in the fields of health, treasury, budget, customs, education, business among others.

In order to increase collaboration with citizens and civil society the co-governance platform "Albania we want"<sup>2</sup> was launched. The platform offers citizens and civil society the ability to provide real time feedback on current political and governance policies and reforms to facilitate more open communication between citizens and government institutions and promote co-governance. This platform enables citizens to select the institution they wish to provide feedback to in order to support a more citizen-centered governance model.

Additionally, ADISA has periodical meetings and focus groups with representatives of civil society to promote continuous improvement in service delivery process, and to support the necessary change in the institutional and management culture.

Remaining challenges

So far, activities related to information and communication technology policies in Albania have been mainly focused on the development of ICT infrastructure and the creation of the necessary systems for the implementation of sectorial policies. However, in order to create a transparency-oriented society, more emphasis should be placed on the development of an inclusive and citizen-centered society and knowledge-based economy, as well as a transparent and efficient public administration.

Furthermore, in improving public service delivery there exists the need to standardize requirements, unify application procedures, and establish the legal basis for reform. Finally, promoting public accountability and civic engagement and participation requires not only increased access to information and resources but also changing the mentality about public service delivery and raising citizens' awareness of their rights as beneficiaries of public services.

Commitment 3

Specific Objective: Development of e-government through provision of interactive electronic public services for citizens & businesses

January 2020 to December 2022

Lead implementing agency/actor

The National Agency for Information Society (NAIS)

Commitment Description

What is the public problem that the commitment will address?

Efficient and effective models of public service delivery are essential not only to meet the needs of citizens, but also to weaken the attractiveness of and opportunities for corruption. Accessing public services can impose significant administrative burdens on citizens and businesses if it requires them to personally navigate opaque, time consuming and complex bureaucratic systems with unclear and non-standardized.

When citizens and businesses have direct contact with administration officials, amid such complexities in another ambiguous system that such a model of public service delivery brings, this kind of use encourages and provides opportunities to increase the risk of corruption in the provision of public services. Moreover, the inefficiency of these complex service delivery models squander government resources that could be otherwise channeled into public services.

Since 2014, on direction from the Prime Minister's Office, Albania has been working towards transforming public service delivery towards an efficient and citizen-centric service delivery model. Promoting public accountability and civic engagement and participation requires not only increased access to information and resources but also changing the mentality about public service delivery and raising citizens' awareness of their rights as beneficiaries of public services.

Developing a service delivery model that utilizes technology and online platforms to streamline bureaucracy in a transparent and standardized way the government of Albania has worked to increase the accessibility and accountability of public service delivery and build public trust in government services, but the effectiveness of this model will depend on the comprehensiveness of the transformation.

What is the commitment?

The national electronic government portal, e-Albania, acts as a front-end point for government institutions to deliver their services online. Operating as a one stop single access point to citizens 24/7 the portal, is connected to the Government Interoperability Platform that enables the interaction between 53 electronic systems of public institutions and applications for their public services.

This commitment expands the number of electronic services in the e-Albania portal in order to improve the process for citizens and businesses to have effective and efficient access to public services. During a three-phase process, the portal will provide 95% or 1300 over 1,200 applications for public service exclusively online only on the e-Albania portal. Public service applications for public services for citizens and businesses will be made only online, while all data and their accompanying documentation when produced by public administration institutions, for citizens and business will be made electronically and will be provided by public administration self-employed. Public administration employees will provide these documents on behalf of the citizen, either by downloading their sealed electronic version with an electronic stamp or from the e-Albania platform or by requesting them from the insurance institution through a special electronic system developed for this purpose. To support citizens and businesses in switching online modalities, an awareness campaign is being implemented and will continue to be implemented.

Objective:

The expansion of the number of electronic services in the e-Albania portal which aims to establish the framework and mechanisms necessary not only for increased efficiency and quality of public service delivery, but also for changing citizens' mind-set towards electronic communication with public institutions. The transition to online applications aims to significantly reduce bureaucracy and administrative costs for citizens and businesses by relieving them from the burden of having to physically collect hard-copies of state documents as well as for the public administration through a more streamlined and efficient model public system.

Expected results:

- Provide 95% of all public service applications electronically;
- Increased citizen literacy regarding e-government tools;
- Increased citizen engagement and increased public accountability by citizens;
- Increasing transparency & quality of service delivery;
- Reduction in service delivery costs;
- Streamlined bureaucratic procedures;
- Prevention of opportunities for corruption.

How will the commitment contribute to solving the public problem?

Expansion of public services on e-Albania:

The e-Albania portal enables citizens to access online applications for services provided by the public administration by acting as a digital gateway to facilitate the access of service providers and beneficiaries to information, electronic procedures and assistance in obtaining services. The e-Albania portal is designed with users in mind, allowing anyone, regardless of their level of digital literacy, to access online services through an adaptable and intuitive interface. According to the opinion poll 'Trust in government' of the citizens who have used the electronic services of e-Albania, 94.6% have found it functional and 80.1% find it easy to use. As a standard-compliant system based on international internet, the e-Albania portal is accessible from any device, including smartphones, televisions and digital kiosks in public places.

The first phase of this commitment (milestone 1) will expand to provide 472 applications for public services available only online on the e-Albania portal to go further by providing 95% of all public service applications electronically only online, up to end of 2020. The National Agency for Information Society (NAIS), in cooperation with all public institutions have initiated a three-phase action plan divided into three phases, to expand public service applications related to applications for public services only available online on the e-Albania portal:

- First phase (January 2020): transitioning 472 applications of public services to online-only;
- Second phase (in process/June 2020): transitioning 395 public service applications to online only;
- Third phase (December 2020): transitioning 394 public service applications to online only.

Having effectively centralized and standardized the applications for nearly all public services into the portal, this commitment will establish the portal as the public service hub, drastically reducing the time citizens and businesses need to spend seeking out and accessing public services and therefore, increasing citizen and business accessibility to obtain public services.

Increasing the accessibility of the e-Albania portal:

According to the 'Trust in Government' opinion poll more than 71% of citizens are aware of the e-Albania portal with over 53% reporting to have received electronic services through the portal. The second stage of the commitment (milestone 2) will focus on facilitating the implementation of the expanded portal and the creation of a citizen focused improvement mechanism. An awareness campaign, with accompanying explanatory materials, will aim to not only educate citizens on the applications and use of the portal so that they can make full use of the full range of services available, but also so that they have the information and material necessary to provide informed feedback. As such, this campaign will be accompanied with a feedback mechanism so that citizens will be able to provide informed feedback on the platform and contribute towards a citizen-focused continual improvement and accessibility of the platform.

Promoting public accountability:

Centralizing public services into an electronic portal enables increased public accountability on three levels:

- First, an online electronic platform establishes traceability for actions service delivery actions and reduces the need for face-to-face contact between citizens and public administration employees lessening opportunities for corruption to take place or go unnoticed.
- Second, public services on the platform must meet an established criteria and compliance with this criteria will be monitored by NAIS. Setting and enforcing a unified criterion across public institutions eliminates variations in administrative practices across institutions' and remove ambiguity and consequently, not only promotes increased efficiency across the whole public administration, but also reduces the opportunities for corruption and mismanagement.
- Third, the e-Albania platform is not only accountable to internal institutions, but also through outward facing mechanisms that enable civic participation towards its continual improvement. Assessments of the expansion of the e-Albania platform will be conducted in coordination with civil society (milestone 1) to ensure the portal is assessed not only according to the transparent and uniform established criteria, but also according to the needs of those using it. Through awareness campaign to capacitate citizens and businesses and its feedback mechanism (milestone 2), the expansion of the e-Albania platform promotes a citizen-centered culture and approach to the transformation of public services. An online format that eliminates in-person or physical feedback and guaranteed privacy protection for citizens aims to incentivize citizens to not only use the portal, but to provide feedback and recommendations, secure that their identity will be protected.

Commitment 4

Specific Objective: Expansion and increased accessibility of the Open Data Portal to increase transparency

January 2020 - December 2022

Lead implementing agency/actor

The National Agency for Information Society (NAIS)

Commitment Description

What is the public problem that the commitment will address?

Transparency and public accountability are mutually reinforcing principles of good governance and often also underpin public trust in government and consequently civic and public engagement and participation. As such addressing and improving the level of transparency across public institutions is particularly important.

According to the “Trust in Governance 2019” opinion poll of 2500 randomly selected Albanians, while a majority of the Albanian population is aware of the right to information law, most Albanian’s surveyed did not perceive central and local institutions to be transparent. Addressing this perception will require increased coordination, engagement and commitment from public institutions to operate with greater transparency and facilitate citizen access to government information and data.

Open data strengthens the governance of and trust in the public institutions, reinforces governments’ obligation to respect the rule of law, and provides a transparent and accountable foundation to improve decision-making and enhance the provision of public services.

What is the commitment?

An open data portals is a web-based interface that enables anyone to access, use and redistribute the data uploaded to it. Open data portals publish data that has the technical and legal characteristics that allow citizens, businesses, non-governmental organizations, civil society organizations, researchers and journalists to access datasets and metadata records of data sets, primarily in the form of numerical data, to use freely.

Albania’s Open Data Portal currently provides open data from several sectors – for example: health, treasury, customs, education, business – this commitment will improve scale up the volume and quality of open data available on the Government’s open data portal. A number of public bodies are actively engaged with the initiative but more engagement is required to bring other public bodies on board to make their data available as open data. Greater promotion of the portal amongst potential users is also required. This commitment will make available new data from additional public institutions, as well as develop strategies to improve citizens understanding of the use and application of the Open Data Portal and increase accessibility to citizens.

Objective:

	This commitment aims to improve access to information and strengthen transparency by expanding the amount of available data on the Government's open data portal through increasing engagement and participation from public institutions towards making their data available as open data. The commitment aims to promote the use of open data to citizens and across the public administration to improve the flow of information across citizens and institutions to increase informed decision making and public accountability. Expected results: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Expanded number of datasets accessible through the open data portal;</li> <li>• Promotion of new innovative ideas, services and products;</li> <li>• Increased awareness and usage of the open data by citizens and institutions;</li> <li>• Increased engagement of citizens and accountability to public institutions.</li> </ul>
How will the commitment contribute to solving the public problem?	Increasing number of data sets accessible through open data portal strengthens the governance of and trust in the public institutions, reinforces governments' obligation to respect the rule of law, and provides a transparent and accountable foundation to improve decision-making and enhance the provision of public services. Ensuring that the data on the Open Data Portal meets the globally agreed norms for publishing open data - i) open by default; ii) timely and comprehensive; iii) accessible and usable; iv) comparable and interoperable; v) facilitates citizen engagement – will help build a culture of openness within the public administration, reinforce government's respect for the rule of law and consequently help build citizen trust in public institutions. This commitment will make available data and develop new ways of sharing government data (milestone 1) that had not been previously available to the public, thus increasing public institutions accountability to citizens. This increased transparency of government decisions and processes can help to promote accountability and enhance public debate. As Open Data Portals helps to improve the flow of information within and across public institutions the expansion of open data can also facilitate improve coordination and decision making within and across public institutions that will further promote public accountability and trust. To ensure the portal's expansion meets the objectives of the commitment an accessibility strategy and awareness campaign (milestone 2) will be designed and implemented so as to familiarize and educate citizens on the full range of applications of open data and explain how the portal can be used by citizens for these various applications.

Specific Objective: Improving the quality of public service delivery in ADISA Integrated Services Centers (ISC's) and service counters

January 2020 - December 2022

Lead implementing agency/actor

Agency for the Delivery of Integrated Services Albania

Commitment Description

What is the public problem that the commitment will address?

Since 2013, the Government of Albania has looked to reinvent public service delivery so as to better meet the needs of citizens, improve citizen satisfaction and improve accessibility to marginalized groups. The Agency for the Delivery of Integrated Services Albania (ADISA) is the institution behind the front office – back office separation in Albania’s public administration. It serves both as the “brain” behind the citizen-centric services and the “face” of those services. It is the brain that sets the standard design for and monitors the services across all relevant Government offices. It is also the public face of the services, which means that it establishes and manages customer care service windows in the ADISA Centers.

In the Integrated Public Service Centers (ISCs), ADISA provides front of office services for a number of central Government institutions, acting as a ‘one stop shop’ for public services that expands citizens and businesses’ fast, easy, and transparent access to public services. Queue management, welcoming premises where citizens are treated with respect, a complaint management system, and simplified procedures in service windows are some of the standards at each ADISA Center. Centers are also equipped with clear directions, parking facilities, waiting areas, children’s playrooms, and ramps for people with disabilities.

Of the 2500 Albanians surveyed in the 2019 Trust in Governance Opinion Poll just 23.9% had visited an ADISA service window in 2019, but of those who did 70% were satisfied or very satisfied with the service delivery. In particular, of those aged 65 and older who had visited an ADISA service window 78.2% were satisfied or very satisfied with the service delivery. As such, there is a need to increase accessibility of high quality public service delivery, particularly to marginalized and vulnerable groups and in areas where public services are lacking.

As citizen satisfaction with public service delivery has been shown to be positively correlated with citizen trust in government and governance, in aiming to improve public service delivery ensuring the continuation and strengthening of efforts to gain and build this trust will be crucial. Increasing the opportunities for citizens to provide feedback on their public service delivery needs and challenges and integrating these into solutions will be necessary in order to increase accessibility of public services for all Albanians, but especially those from marginalized and vulnerable groups.

What is the commitment?	The functioning of ISCs and other service channels would not be complete without rigorous performance monitoring and assessment to help identify ways to constantly improve the activity of ISCs/service channels against objectives and targets. This commitment establishes an inclusive strategy for the assessment of the quality and accessibility of public service delivery at ADISA ISCs that is centered on listening to the needs of citizens. It provides multiple opportunities and platforms for citizens to express their needs, opinions, circumstances and feedback and commits to a transparent process of incorporating citizen contributions towards improved public service delivery quality and accessibility. As such this commitment will entail carrying out citizen surveys to monitor citizen satisfaction with public service delivery and the timeliness of these services, as well as focus groups. The results of these surveys and consultations will be integrated into performance monitoring assessments in order to identify ways to improve service delivery at ISCs and in general. Objective: ADISA’s performance assessment of service channels aims at improving public service delivery to citizens, its accessibility and increasing the overall satisfaction of service users. By monitoring the quality of public service delivery at ISCs through on-going citizen satisfaction assessment mechanisms this commitment aims to improve public service by listening directly to the needs of citizens in order to increase accessibility of quality public service delivery. Expected results: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Ensuring ISCs are accessible for all citizens including marginalized and vulnerable groups;</li> <li>• Varied mechanisms for continuous feedback from citizens on public service delivery that ensure all voices can be heard;</li> <li>• Improved service delivery that reflects needs of citizens;</li> <li>• Reduced application time at ADISA ISC;</li> <li>• Increased accountability of public service providers;</li> <li>• Increased citizen satisfaction;</li> <li>• Increased public trust that citizens’ needs are heard and addressed.</li> </ul>
How will the commitment contribute to solving the public problem?	Improving the quality of public service delivery means taking account of the public service delivery needs of all citizens and incorporating those needs into tangible actions. This increased accessibility is only possible when public service providers offer citizens the opportunity to contribute to these changes. This commitment establishes mechanisms for continuous feedback from citizens. Through citizen surveys of both citizen satisfaction with ISCs (milestone 1) and timeliness of the application processes at ISCs (milestone 2) citizens will be encouraged to provide honest feedback. The surveys will aim to identify strengths and weaknesses; set further objectives for improving the quality of service delivery; measure citizen satisfaction with information points, reception, accommodation, the application process; and feedback on improvements made by ADISA in ISCs. The results of which will provide public service providers with an overview of areas of strength and weakness in public service delivery. Focus groups will provide the opportunity for a greater depth of understanding of citizens' specific needs and provide insights into potential areas for improvement, particularly from those from minority groups (milestone 3).

These feedback mechanisms will be part of a transparent assessment process that will include the publication of feedback and the inclusion of feedback into strategies for improvement. Maintaining an electronic record of feedback through an online database traceability and tracking of feedback results will support accountability to addressing citizens' needs and provide a means of measuring improvement over time.

Finally, increased inclusivity will be a priority of the commitment and will underpin the feedback mechanisms to ensure all voices are provided the opportunity to be listened to and heard. Special attention will be paid to improving the accessibility of public services to meet the needs of marginalized and vulnerable groups and to ensure their inclusion in the public service delivery process (milestone 4).

Access, Transparency and Accountability in Justice

Why is access to justice a priority for Albania?

As a principle, the rule of law maintains that in a democratic society all persons, institutions, and entities are equally accountable to the same laws and that the processes governing justice enforcement are clear, fair and independently adjudicated. Consequently, access to justice is considered an important and fundamental right for all citizens and a necessity of a fair and just society.

Government efforts, progress and collaboration with civil society

Addressing and preventing these challenges, with a special focus on the most vulnerable groups, has become an important priority for the Albanian government. The introduction of state-guaranteed legal aid has been an important step towards addressing these barriers and facilitating citizens' access to justice.

Projects and initiatives of justice focused non-profit organizations (NGOs), with the support of international partners, have played an important role in legal education to the public. In cooperation with the Open Society Foundation for Albania (OSFA)<sup>3</sup> the Ministry of Justice's Directorate of Free Legal Aid has established state guaranteed legal aid. Through this initiative, citizens who do not have the financial means to pay a private lawyer and who seek to exercise their civil, political, and economic rights through the implementation of justice procedures, civil or criminal, can access free legal aid. Citizens can access legal advice, guidance and assistance towards drafting the necessary documentation, as well as representation before public administration bodies. An online platform has further increased the accessibility of these services and enabled the continued provision of legal aid services when the physical legal aid centers had to close as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic. This platform has maintained the opportunity for citizens to seek and receive legal advice and support, both generally and in legal matters pertaining to the pandemic, and has been utilized by a considerable number of citizens.

Furthermore, each city has the opportunity to seek secondary legal aid or consult with the normative acts in force, the right and obligation of the subjects of law and the methods for exercising the direction of the judicial and extrajudicial process, providing assistance in drafting and compiling documentation necessary for state administration.

To holistically improve the justice system the Albanian government has prioritized the design and implementation of series of cross-cutting strategies to provide the structural basis required to facilitate meaningful and lasting justice reform towards a more open, transparent and accountable justice system. Improving access to justice is one of the key components within the Cross-cutting Justice Strategy (CIS), the Cross-cutting Anti-Corruption Strategy (ISCC), the Juvenile Justice Strategy (SDM), and the Legal Education Strategy Public Sector (SELP).

Remaining challenges

Many challenges still remain towards improving access to justice in Albania. Citizen trust in the justice system and doubtful attitudes towards its reform pose particular challenges. Ensuring that citizens have access to justice is predicated on the transparency and accountability of the systems, institutions and procedures responsible for the administration of justice. Specifically, improving the integrity and the professional and technical competency of justice institutions and all actors within the justice system (judges, prosecutors, lawyers, notaries, bailiffs, mediators) towards alignment with European standards will facilitate a more competent and accountable system. Inadequate and insufficient resources (budgetary, structural, and technical) have limited access to justice.

<sup>3</sup> Established in 1992, the Open Society Foundation for Albania (OSFA) is an NGO within the network of Soros Foundations founded and financed by philanthropist George Soros. The OSFA uses monitoring and policy analysis, advocacy, litigation, and grassroots activism to help the country pursue democratization and EU integration to bring the country in line with EU standards for justice, public administration, anticorruption, governance, and human rights.

Addressing this lack of capacity in collaboration with and through contributions from civil society, academia and all other stakeholders will be crucial in addressing citizen distrust and a key determinant of lasting justice reform. Through stakeholder consultations, emphasis was placed towards increasing the involvement of civil society in the consultation and decision-making process for justice reforms. Stakeholders also highlighted the need to accelerate justice reforms and in particular, improve the independence and impartiality of the justice system. Strengthening the system of transparency, efficiency and impartiality in Albanian courts, by improving the quality of representation in the trial and increasing the capacity of civil society to monitor and address these issues as well as increase the transparency and accessibility of public information will have a positive impact on this process.

Commitment Description
What is the public problem that the commitment will address?	Over the years citizens in Albania have faced significant structural and financial barriers to accessing justice including limited legal capability, limited access to legal counsel/advice, lengthy timeframes for resolutions and perceived lack of fairness in resolution. According to the 2018 Survey of the World Justice Project<sup>4</sup>, of Albanian citizens that have experienced a legal problem in the previous two years only 18% were able to access help and reported obtaining information, 48% did not know where to get advice and information, 38% said it was difficult or nearly impossible to find the money require to solve the problem and 52% did not feel the process followed was fair. Furthermore, resolutions to legal problems took on average over 2 years (28 months) to resolve.
What is the commitment?	This commitment will establish a directorate dedicated to improving citizens' access to quality legal resources state guaranteed legal aid resources. The establishment of a free legal aid directorate will be accompanied by structured multi-stakeholder and inter-institutional cooperation to continuously improve legal professional capacities, accountability and legal aid delivery in order to guaranteed citizens access to justice that is aligned with European standards and internationally recognized best practices. Objective: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Develop the necessary environment that enables and ensures citizens to be able to effectively achieve the quality support of justice they need to fully resolve their legal problems;</li> <li>• Inter-institutional cooperation between governmental and non-governmental institutions increases competency and accountability in the legal sector;</li> <li>• Citizens' awareness of the legal system and legal aid resources available to them is improved.</li> </ul> Expected results:

- Directorate of Free Legal Aid established to provide legal guidance and assistance to citizens lacking the resources to pay for legal support;
- Improved inter-institutional cooperation and collaboration between the MoJ, legal clinics, the National Chamber of Mediators (DHKN), the Albanian Bar Association, NGOs and CSOs through the establishment of cooperation frameworks and inter-institutional forums;
- Strengthened capacity of justice professional through development of systems for on-going training and examinations for legal professionals and legal aid service providers, in collaboration with universities and other experts;
- Inter-institutional forum established to continuously improve delivery of legal aid;
- Increased citizen awareness and access to mediation services and support;
- Increased transparency and accountability among mediators through publically available electronic records of actions.

How will the commitment contribute to solving the public problem?

Efforts to increase citizen's access to justice have been an on-going focus of judicial reform efforts in Albania and of increasing priority. By establishing a dedicated directorate to state-guaranteed legal aid (milestone 1) the Albanian government not only aims to expand access to justice, but also accountability towards its objective of ensuring equal access to justice for all citizens. Through this initiative, citizens who do not have the financial means to pay a private lawyer and who seek to exercise their civil, political, and economic rights through the implementation of justice procedures, civil or criminal, can access free legal aid. Citizens can access legal advice, guidance and assistance towards drafting the necessary documentation, as well as representation before public administration bodies both in person and through an online platform.

In order to facilitate guaranteed access to justice this commitment focuses on developing the enabling environment necessary to ensure citizens are able to efficiently access the quality justice support they need to fully resolve their legal problems.

In particular, the commitment looks to strengthen the cooperation between governmental and non-governmental institutions with relevant interests and expertise. The establishment of a cooperation framework with regular technical meetings will increase collaboration between the Directorate of Free Legal Aid and relevant public institutions with civil society and legal aid providers (milestone 3). Meanwhile a dedicated inter-institutional forum for legal aid provides an on-going platform for all stakeholders to contribute to the improve of legal aid delivery such that it integrates the justice needs of all citizens, with particular attention to the needs of those in marginalized groups (milestone 4).

A coordinated approach is taken so that the challenges of improving access are identified and innovative solutions can be development and implemented as most effectively and efficiently possible. Technical capacity building, through continuous trainings and examinations for justice professionals and legal aid service providers, in collaboration with universities and other experts, will be targeted to develop the specialized skillsets necessary to ensure that the specific needs of citizens requiring justice support are met. Mandatory training modules for employees of Legal Aid Service centers will be developed Working in cooperation with the Albanian Bar Association (ADB), the Albanian School of Public Administration (ASPA) and donors (milestone 2).

To establish mediation procedures as an alternative mechanism for citizens to resolve legal problems, increased cooperation between the Ministry of Justice and the National Chamber of Mediators (DHKN) will be established (milestone 5) and the professional capacities of mediators will be strengthened through collaboration between the Ministry of Justice and the National Chamber of Mediators towards the development of regulations and curriculums for trainings and examinations for intermediaries (milestone 6).

Finally, the commitment will expand citizen awareness of the use of mediation services to resolve legal problems legal system through public awareness campaigns(milestone 7) as well as increase transparency and accountability on the actions of mediators through an electronic database implemented by the DHKN (milestone 8).

Commitment 7

Specific Objective: The Ministry of Justice website is fully functional with timely, easily understandable, accessible information and the appropriate capacities developed to ensure transparency and accountability for the citizens

January 2020 - December 2022

Lead implementing agency/actor

Ministry of Justice

Commitment Description

What is the public problem that the commitment will address?

Access to justice not only includes providing citizens with legal resources, but also ensuring that the legal system is fair and equal. Justice reform is one of the key priorities of the Albanian government; however, citizen perceptions regarding the implementation of these reforms present a significant challenge. According to the “Trust in Governance 2019” opinion poll of 2500 randomly selected Albanians, while over half of citizens (52.7%) believe justice reforms will have a positive impact, only 31.5% believe the reforms are being implemented properly (48.5% believe they are not and 20% do not know). Improving the transparency of the Ministry of Justice and its subordinate institutions enables these institutions to be accountable to citizens and carry responsibility of the fulfillment of their designated duties, responsibilities and commitments in both their daily work and in executing justice reforms. In turn, the transparency and accountability of justice institutions are necessary preconditions for building public trust.

Access to information necessitates that the relevant information is easily attainable and understandable by citizens. Albanian citizens have lacked timely and sufficient access to all the necessary documents and information in order to hold the Ministry of Justice and its subordinate institutions accountable. Additionally, documents that are available online, while a step in the right direction, may be too long or technical to be easily understood by citizens. Thus, in order to enable accountability through transparency the Ministry of Justice’s website requires substantial improvements through a coordinated and collaborative strategy that prioritizes on-going updating and improvement with emphasis on ensuring accessibility and relevance to citizens’ needs.

What is the commitment?

This commitment uses a three part strategy to improve transparency and accountability of the Ministry of Justice and its subordinate institutions through an official website that citizens can rely on the timely and efficient update of documents of interest to citizens in formats that are easily understood by citizens and an improved internal reporting framework. Through a collaborative working group that includes the Ministry of Justice and subordinate institutions, NAIS and civil society organizations the commitment will develop a fully functional and citizen accessible Ministry of Justice website. This will include increasing not only the quantity of strategies, monitoring reports, and reports on the implementation of institution activities published, but also the accessibility of these publications through accompanying audiovisual communication, as well as published summaries of various reports in simplified language. In conjunction, a framework for increased cooperation and coordination of the activities and responsibilities of the Ministry of Justice and its subordinate institutions will establish intra-institutional transparency and formalized mechanisms for accountability regarding these activities.

Objective:

To develop the necessary systems & mechanisms to ensure transparency and consequently promote accountability within the Ministry of Justice and its subordinate institutions through a fully functional website that publishes in real-time all information relevant to citizens in a clear and easily understood format and an intra-institutional operations and reporting framework.

Expected results:

Increased transparency and use of access to public information:

- Fully operational Ministry of Justice website;
- Information published on the website in real time and is relevant to citizens when requesting services;

Improved accountability within the Ministry of Justice & subordinate institutions:

- Working group ensures transparency is maintained;
- Strengthened cooperation and coordination between relevant activities and responsibilities of the MoJ and its subordinate institutions.

How will the commitment contribute to solving the public problem?

This commitment focuses on not only increasing transparency through the online publication of Ministry of Justice documents, but also on ensuring that the information is published in an easily understood format. Establishing a dedicated working group the Ministry of Justice (milestone 1) will take a structured and collaborative approach to improve the not only the quality and quantity of information available online, but also the accessibility of the content for non-technical citizens. An assessment report drafted by the working group and made available for public comment will identify where access to information can and should be improved to reflect the wants and needs of citizens (milestone 2).

Fostering improved technical and professional capacity and the development of updating mechanisms and protocols will seek to ensure the sustainability of these improvements and maintain regular updating of the website (milestone 3).

As public trust is being developed it is necessary to not only publish information, but to reach out to citizens through a variety of channels. Justice related strategies, action plans and their accompanying implementation and monitoring reports will not only be published and made public (milestone 4), but their conclusions will also be disseminated through audio-visual communication via TV appearances of the Minister, awareness campaigns, awareness activities, etc. (milestone 5).

Accountability frameworks will be developed in coordination with relevant institutions in order to develop clear and transparent procedures and regulations (milestone 6) and reporting systems (milestone 7) for the Ministry of Justice and its subordinate institutions to help ensure duties are carried out efficiently, effectively and with integrity.

Component 4

Fiscal Transparency to improve the coverage, quality and accessibility of information on public finances.

Why is fiscal transparency a priority for Albania?

Public services are financed by taxpayer funds and the allocation of these funds is determined through the budget and fiscal cycle. Increasing accountability over the budget and fiscal cycle deters waste and corruption and ensures that budgetary decisions and spending reflect the people's interests. Through transparency, public participation and legislative oversight this openness can help combat corruption. The public participation across the budget and fiscal cycle is particularly important for Albania.

In order for fiscal transparency to facilitate the citizen empowerment necessary to scrutinize public finances and therefore promote public financial accountability the publication of documents alone will not be sufficient. Due to the technical nature of many public budget and fiscal documents in order for fiscal transparency to be achieved information must be published in a format that is not only physically accessible, but is also easily understood by the citizens, uses plain language and includes accompanying supplementary resources or information that explain more complex or technical concepts in laymen's terms.

Government efforts and progress

Fiscal transparency, on both the government budget and on public revenues, has been an increasingly important focus for the Ministry of Finance and Economy (MoFE). Within Albania's Public Finance Management (PFM) Sectorial Strategy 2019-2022, the guiding framework for the implementation of all government PFM reforms, fiscal transparency is prioritized and is one of the strategy's seven specific objectives. With the aim of achieving "enhanced accountability and transparency through better financial and non-financial performance reporting in line with the international standards" the PFM strategy outlines five key interventions objectives:

- i. Timely and reliable government financial statistics in line with international standards;
- ii. Annual financial reports published in year with accessible financial and non-financial performance information;
- iii. Formal opportunities to engage the public in the planning and execution of the budget;
- iv. Financial statements presented in accordance with International Public Sector Accounting (IPSAS) standards;
- v. Preparation and publication of improved and full assets registry of the public sector based on improved regulations for the valuation and inventory of assets.

Fiscal transparency had also been included in the previous PFM Strategy 2014-2020. These strategies have utilized the findings and recommendations from the independent international evaluations to address the public finance reform challenges identified. Additionally, fiscal transparency was a priority reform of Albania's 2018-2020 OGP Action Plan.

In recent years fiscal transparency has been increasing in Albania. Between 2010 and 2019 Albania's OBI score has increased from 33 to 55 out of a possible 100. While encouraging, not only does the most recent score indicate that transparency is still insufficient to facilitate informed debate, but the increase has slowed in recent years, having only increased 5 points between 2017 and 2019, with the only change having been the publication of mid-year reviews online. As such, efforts to improve fiscal transparency should expand substantially in order to meet the necessary thresholds and targets.

Collaboration with civil society

Stakeholder engagement regarding fiscal transparency has long been a challenge; however, efforts to engage, consult and collaborate with civil society organizations (CSOs) and stakeholders has been an increasing focus of the MoFE's approach. CSOs were frequently invited to contribute to the development of the PFM framework and prior to approval the PFM Strategy was published and subjected to public consultation.

As public trust in these processes is still being established, in 2019 a public workshop was dedicated not only for public consultation of the PFM strategy, but to also receive feedback for how MoFE could improve stakeholder engagement in the different budget phases. Additionally, for each annual PFM monitoring report, CSOs are invited to participate to provide their comments and are invited to attend the PFM Steering Committee meeting. Albania's Parliament has established public hearings related to the approval of the annual budget and CSOs are invited to collaborate and provide feedback during the preparation of budget documents such as the Medium Term Budget Planning (MTBP).

Remaining challenges

Without increasing the accessibility of fiscal information fiscal transparency will not be effective in promoting more accountable fiscal governance. Thus, efforts towards fiscal openness in Albania will aim to facilitate increased public understanding. The OBI has recommended that Albania expand the financial and policy information in the Executive's Budget Proposal, Year-End Report, and Mid-Year Review to be more specific, disaggregating information to provide stakeholders with a more comprehensive understanding. Additionally, the OBI emphasizes the importance of the Citizens' Budget – recommending that the process be widely publicized to encourage engagement, that the public's needs be identified and incorporated prior the CB's release and that the CB be published for additional stages of the budget process.

As Albania's parliament provides adequate oversight<sup>5</sup> during the planning stage of the budget cycle and limited oversight during the implementation stage in order to improve such oversight it is recommended that Albania strengthens legislative oversight of in-year budget implementation and executive budget proposals, spending and strengthens its independent audit oversight processes.

Realizing the benefits of fiscal openness Albania will need to significantly improve stakeholder engagement and public participation. In the 2019 OBI assessment Albania scored just 7 out of a possible 100 points, with 61 points being considered the threshold for adequate public participation in the budget process. While the global average of 14/100 indicates that public participation in the budgeting process is lacking around the world, with such a low score Albania will need to pursue transformative efforts to improve public participation. In order to work towards a more participatory budgeting process the OBI assessment recommends:

- i. MoFE pilot mechanisms to engage the public during budget formulation and to monitor budget implementation and to prioritize active engagement with vulnerable and underrepresented communities, directly or through civil society organizations representing them;
- ii. Parliament should allow any member of the public or any CSO to testify during its hearings on the budget proposal prior to its approval and during its hearings on the Audit Report;
- iii. The State Supreme Audit Institution should establish formal mechanisms for the public to assist in developing its audit program and to contribute to relevant audit investigations.

In specific consideration of stakeholder feedback, recent public consultations with CSOs have identified the following recommendations fiscal transparency in Albania:

<sup>5</sup>Albania was scored 65/100 by the OBI in 2019 for budgetary oversight – the threshold for adequate oversight is 61/100

- i. Publication and access to the Government Financial Statistics data to the public;
- ii. Simplify Budget documents, as Citizen Budget at Central and Local level, Budget Execution Report, etc.;
- iii. Improve publication of concession contracts and specially for monitoring the concession authorities on the basis of performance;
- iv. Increase citizens 'engagement in the budget process etc.

Commitment 8

Specific Objective: Budget Transparency

January 2020 - December 2022

Lead implementing agency/actor

Ministry of Finance and Economy

Commitment Description

What is the public problem that the commitment will address?

Transparency, public participation, and legislative oversight in the development of budgets creates better outcomes and are the main issues to better improve the citizen access on fiscal documents. Increasing accountability over the budget and fiscal cycle deters waste and corruption and ensures that budgetary decisions and spending reflect the people's interests. Through transparency, public participation and legislative oversight this openness can help combat corruption. Increasing transparency and public participation across the budget and fiscal cycle is particularly important for Albania. In recent years fiscal transparency has been increasing in Albania. Between 2010 and 2019 Albania's score on the Open Budget Index<sup>6</sup> (OBI) has increased from 33 to 55 out of a possible 100. While encouraging, according to the OBI's 2019 assessment Albania have done progress but still does not publish enough material to support informed public debate on the budget<sup>7</sup>. In the 2019 assessment of the online availability, timeliness, and comprehensiveness of eight key budget documents Albania ranked 43rd out of 117 countries.

In order for fiscal transparency to facilitate the citizen empowerment necessary to scrutinize public finances and therefore promote public financial accountability the publication of documents alone will not be sufficient. Without increasing the accessibility of fiscal information fiscal transparency will not be effective in promoting more accountable fiscal governance. Thus, efforts towards fiscal openness in Albania will aim to facilitate increased public understanding. The OBI has recommended that Albania expand the financial and policy information in the Executive's Budget Proposal, Year-End Report, and Mid-Year Review to be more specific, disaggregating information to provide stakeholders with a more comprehensive understanding.

What is the commitment?

Budget transparency consists of publishing budget reports and relevant financial data in formats that are understandable and accessible to all citizens will help to develop the fiscal transparency necessary for citizens to be well enough informed to participate in public debate on aspects of the budget and to meaningfully engage and participate in the planning and execution of the budget.

<sup>6</sup> The OBI measures public access to information on how the central government raises and spends public resources and assesses the online availability, timeliness, and comprehensiveness of eight key budget documents

<sup>7</sup> According to the OBI a fiscal transparency score of 61/100 or higher indicates a country likely publishes adequate information for informed public debate

Due to the technical nature of many public budget and fiscal documents in order for fiscal transparency to be achieved this commitment will establish the timely publication information in a format that is not only easily accessible online, but is also easily understood, uses plain language and includes accompanying supplementary resources or information that explain more complex or technical concepts in layman's terms. Further efforts shall be made to engage the public in the budget process so as to promote public accountability to citizens through civic participation.

Objective:

Albania's commitment to improving budget transparency aims to guarantee a public finance system that promotes transparency, accountability, fiscal discipline and efficiency in the management and use of public resources to improve the quality of service delivery and economic development. The commitment aims to achieve enhanced accountability and transparency through better financial and non-financial performance reporting in line with international standards to improve coverage, quality and accessibility of information on public finances and promote civic engagement throughout the budget cycle.

Expected results:

- A sustainable statistical system for the general government units is in place;
- Timely and reliable government financial statistics;
- Published in year and annual financial reports contain accessible financial and non-financial performance information;
- Strengthened financial oversight and management of the fiscal risks;
- Formal opportunities provided for the public to engage in the planning and execution of the budget;
- More structured and timely engagement with citizens, civil society organizations and academia in budget planning, monitoring and reporting.

How will the commitment contribute to solving the public problem?

To establish increased budget transparency this commitment will prioritize alignment with international methodologies for statistical information, strengthening the size, scope, timeliness and accessibility of the information published and create opportunities for citizens to engage in the budget process.

The timely publication of government national accounts in accordance with the European System of Accounts (ESA) 2010 and using a revised statistical system (milestone 1) aims to ensure the reliability of published government accounts and provide a framework for efficient and accurate compilation and publication of financial statistics that aligns with international best practices. To promote public financial oversight and accountability an improved fiscal risk statement will be developed in order to better monitor and mitigate any financial risks (milestone 2).

Increasing fiscal transparency requires that the information available be relevant and timely. As such, budget execution and financial annual (milestone 3) and mid-year (milestone 4) reports will be published in year. They will include plain language and supplementary non-financial performance information to be easily accessible to citizens and promote comprehensive of budget related information and reports. Finally a budget hearing calendar for key budget processes will enable (milestone 5).

Commitment 9

Specific Objective: Transparency on Revenue

January 2020 - December 2022

Lead implementing agency/actor

Ministry of Finance and Economy

Commitment Description

What is the public problem that the commitment will address?

Fostering a public administration that operates with integrity requires establish complimentary systems with procedures and rules that eliminate opportunities for public servants to exploit their position for personal gain.

When complex and opaque systems are in place a lack of oversight establishes opportunities for corruption. Without fiscal transparency and oversight institutions able to scrutinize revenues corruption can place in the form of: collusion (such as prior agreements to fix prices or terms), patronage (favoritism whereby a person or company is hired/contracted by the public administration regardless of qualifications because of affiliations or connection to government officials), conflicts of interest (whereby an individual is confronted with a choice between their duties and responsibilities and their private interests which can result in a misuse of public resources) and graft (political corruption where government officials benefit from intentionally misdirecting public funds to be purchased at a higher cost from specific vendors). Because a lack of transparency on government revenues can provide opportunities to hide corruption it can also hamper public trust.

Transparency of government revenues and assets promotes public integrity by deterring corrupt behavior and by enabling oversight institutions to hold accountable government officials and institutions. Systems that require this transparency help ensure public officials remain honest which consequently build public trust in government.

What is the commitment?

Increasing revenue transparency consists of publishing and making available all relevant financial data regarding the revenues collected by government from various industries-bringing industry, government and civil society stakeholders into the monitoring process. Information will be in a format that is understandable and accessible to all citizens, such as through the use of plain language and accompanying information to explain more complex aspects.

To promote transparency of public revenues this commitment establishes and publishes a public asset inventory and register that aligns with international public-sector accounting standards and follows an updated and improved methodology and policies for public asset valuation including depreciation and impairment of assets.

	Objective: The objective of this commitment is to enhance accountability and transparency through better financial and non-financial performance reporting in line with international standards to improve coverage, quality and accessibility of information on public finances. Further efforts shall be made to engage the public in the process. Expected results: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Accounting is in compliance with appropriate international public sector accounting standards;</li> <li>Preparation and publication of the full asset registry of public sector, based on the improved regulations for the valuation and inventory of these assets.</li> </ul>
How will the commitment contribute to solving the public problem?	To develop a sustainable system for increasing the transparency and accessibility of public revenue information this commitment will take a phased approach to presenting accruals-based government financial statements. It will ensure that public accounting and legal acts are in compliance with international best practices (International Public Sector Accounting Standards (IPSAS)) through an approved strategic action plan (milestone 1). Guided by an approved methodology an inventory of assets will be implemented in all central government institutions (milestone 2). Guidelines and policies will be improved or developed for the recognition and valuation of assets (milestone 3) and the depreciation and impairment of assets (milestone 4) in compliance with agreed upon standards. Public asset management will be improved through the development and publication of a full asset registry for the entire public administration. Based on the improved regulations established by milestones 1-4 a methodology will be developed with guidelines for preparing the full asset inventory (milestone 5). This methodology will ensure that public institutions accurately and comprehensively disclose public revenues and thus will limit opportunities for unethical practices to be hidden and promote civil engagement and understanding. The public asset inventory will then be recorded into the Albanian Government Financial Information System (AGFIS) (milestone 6) for budgetary institutions with AGFIS access and into excel for budget institutions without direct access to AGFIS (milestone 7) which will enable traceability and oversight.

Information will be in a format that is understandable and accessible to citizens through the use of plain language where possible and supplementary information to explain more complex subjects.

ANNEX 2: Methodological Approach

The methodology for the process of drafting the OGP Action Plan 2020-2022 is based on the mechanisms and processes related to Albania's Integrated Planning System. The Integrated Policy Management Group for Good Governance and Public Administration under the leadership of the Deputy Prime Minister and focuses on the Albanian Government's priority for 'Good Governance' at the central and local level.

The Multi-stakeholder Forum on Open Government/ Integrated Policy Management Group (IPMG play the role of the MSF) supports ongoing dialogue between government and Albania civil society on open government. Its mandate is to provide input and advice on the Government of Albania's commitments on open government, identify new areas of focus, and build the open government community across country. The Multi-Stakeholder Forum/ Integrated Policy Management Group (IPMG play the role of the MSF) is relevant, eligible and is composed of representative of the Government of Albania, representative from civil society and Development Partner's and is based on the EU requirement.

The integrated mechanism of sector-wide/cross-sector approach within the Integrated Planning System (IPS), approved by Prime Minister Order No.157 dated 22 October 2018, is the main system that defines the tools and mechanisms for integrated public policy planning ensuring effective distribution of financial resources. The IPMG mechanism is clearly formally established by 2 successive Prime Minister's Orders which present the structure's organisation, objectives, membership, functioning rules and operation of five Integrated Policy Management Groups (IPMG), five Sector Steering Committees (SSC) headed by a minister at the political level, and twenty-four Thematic Groups (ThGs).

The Government of Albania considers the mechanism in place on IPMG/MSF as a relevant creating a permanent mechanism for civil society guidance and oversight which offer agility and flexibility in working mechanism. The IPMG/MSF coordinate policies and monitor implementation covering measures related to civil society advancement, decentralization and local governance, public administration reform, service delivery public, transparency & anti-corruption, statistics, e-government and digitalization. It will also coordinate with civil society all measures that will be planned in the Action Plan 2020-2022, enabling consultations in periodic stages.

To facilitate improved coordination, oversight, accountability and stakeholder involvement in the development of the upcoming action plan the Technical Secretariat acts as the Albanian Government Point of Contact (POC).

Alignment with National Priorities and Frameworks

Integrated Planning System

Strategic planning in Albania is based on the Integrated Planning System (IPS), which was initially approved by Decision of the Council of Ministers, no. 244, dated 21.4.2005 and then by DCM, No. 692, dated 10.11.2005. The IPS aims to provide a comprehensive planning framework within which all government policies and financial planning function in a coherent, efficient and integrated manner. The IPS consists of a framework of operating principles and structures that enable the most harmonious possible connection of all planning processes between them.

There are two basic processes that support IPS:

- A medium to long-term strategic planning process, the National Strategy for Development and Integration (NSDI), which sets strategic priorities and goals;
- A medium-term budgeting process, the Medium Term Budget Program (MTBP), which requires each ministry to develop a three-year plan within budget expenditure ceilings to achieve policy objectives, in line with the NSDI.

Linking Processes and Drafting the Action Plan 2020-2022

The methodology for the process of drafting the OGP Action Plan 2020-2022 is based on the principle of full functioning of all current mechanisms and processes related to the Integrated Planning System.

The drafting of the Action Plan 2020-2022 (OGP) is based especially on the best harmonization with the Medium Term Budget Programming cycle and with the National Plan for European Integration (NPEI) as well as with the strategic planning of the country (sectoral & cross-sectoral strategies).

In particular, the Action Plan 2020-2022 (OGP) harmonize:

- Relation to the priorities of the Albanian Government and NSDI II, where the priorities set out in the Government program, as well as the priority sectors of the Government, are an integral part of the vision and policies set by the NSDI.
- Full link between the MTBP and the NPEI, where activities, measures and commitments under the Stabilization and Association Agreement (SAA) are an integral part of the MTBP and the NSDI.
- Relation to the policies included in the national sectoral and cross-sectoral strategies of the country.

Key Actors

Lead Focal Point Institutions (LFPs)

Under the central coordination and technical support of the POC Lead Focal Point Institutions (LFPs) oversee the development of Action Plan commitments relevant to their policy area of focus. The LFPs work in collaboration with the POC to co-create commitments with civil society. For more information on co-creation see the explanatory note on co-creation.

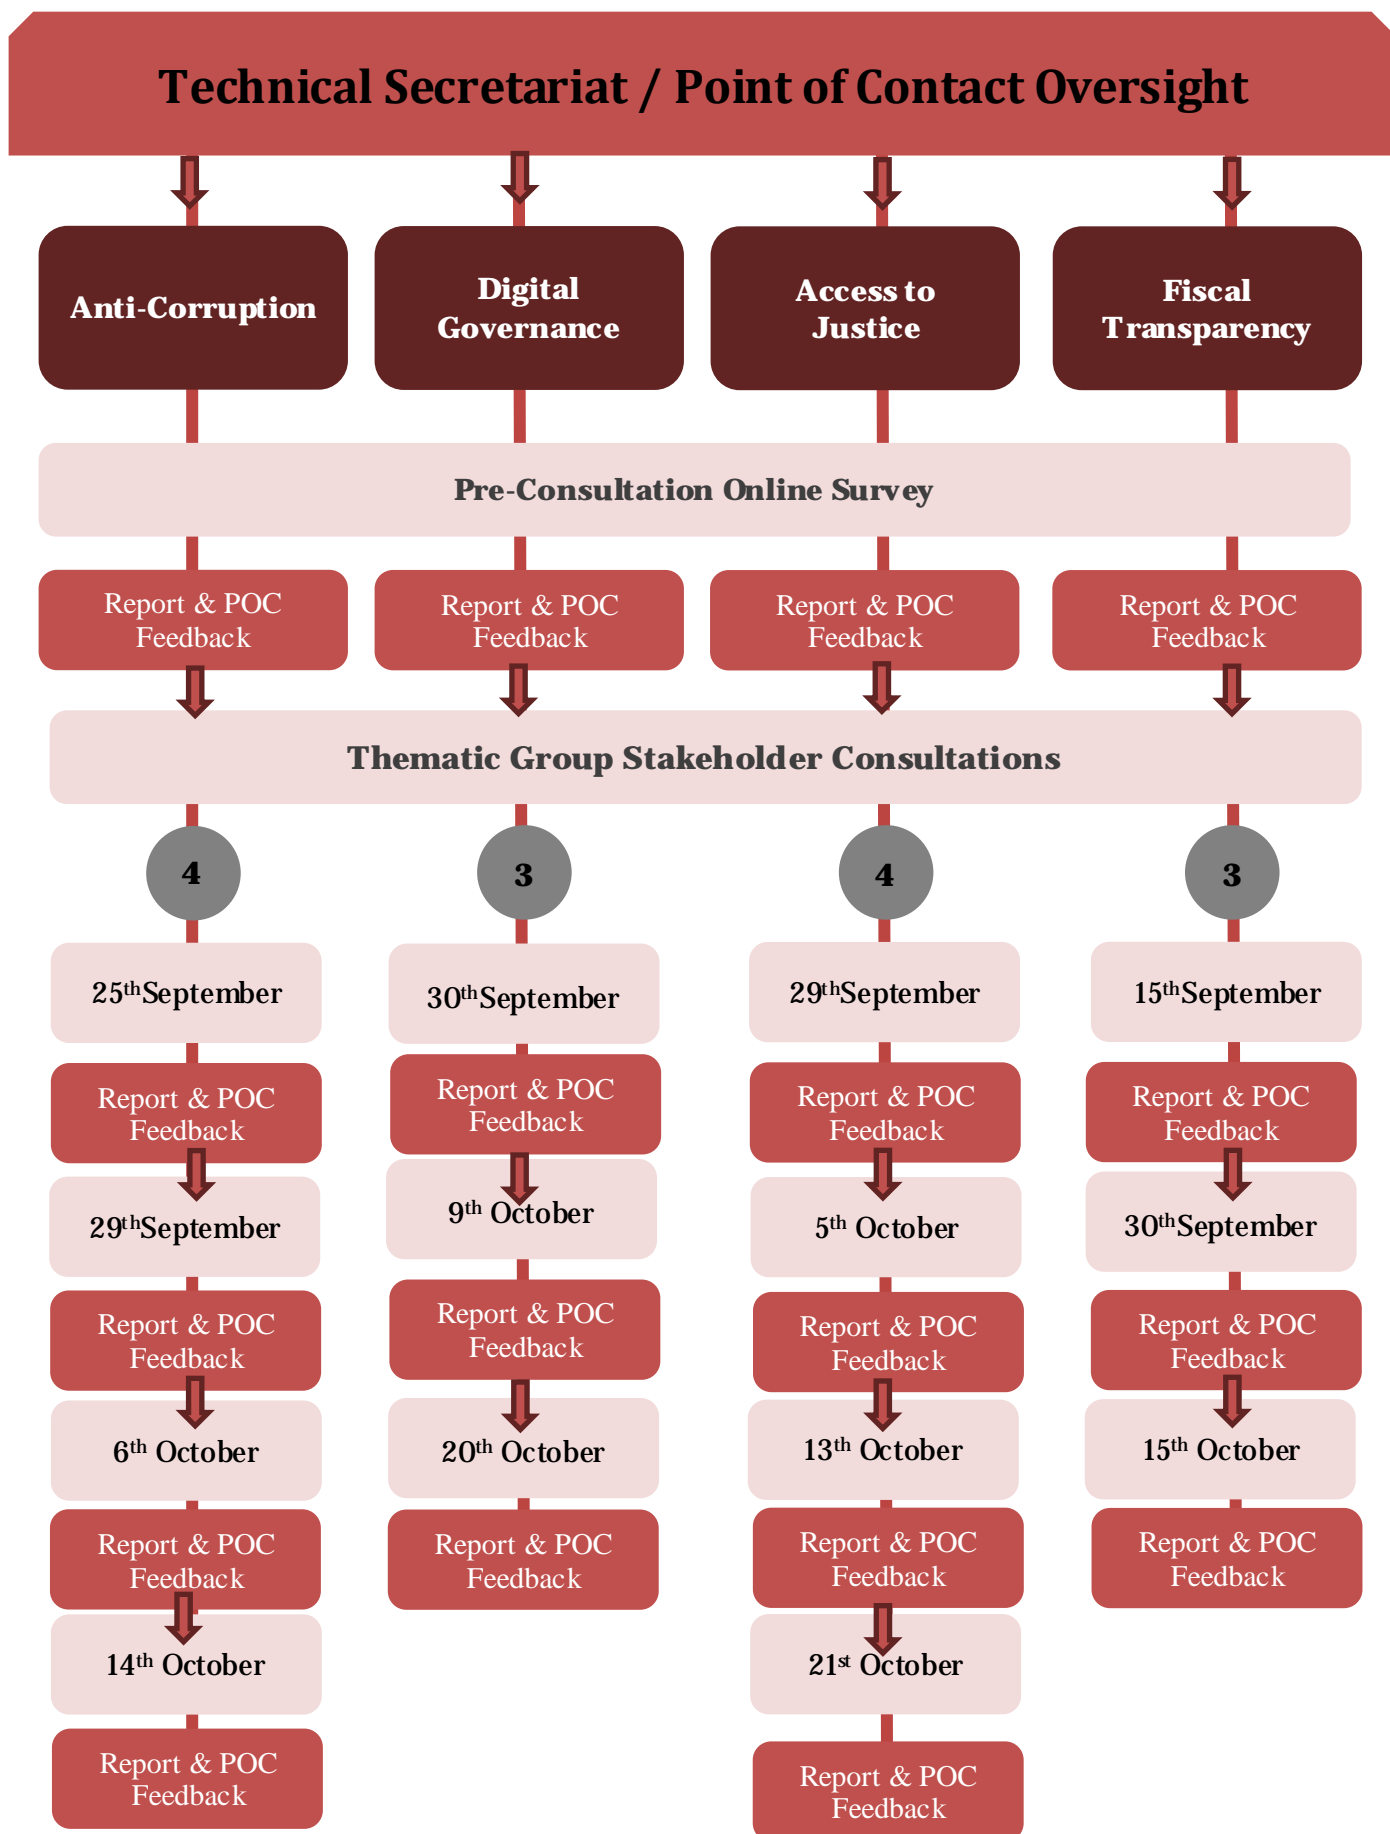

Figure 1: Proposed Policy Areas of Focus with Lead Focal Point Institutions (LFPs), thematic groups and aligned strategies

Centralized Role of the Technical Secretariat (TS) / Government Point of Contact (POC)

With improving participation, transparency and accountability central to Albania's approach to the development and implementation of the action plan the POC has taken additional measures in order to centralize the coordination of the action plan and stand to the OGP co-creation standards and participatory approach from the evaluation and planning process. In this expanded role the POC has been overseeing the development of action plan commitments under the four areas of policy focus through increased management of and coordination with the Lead Focal Point Institutions (LFPs) designated to each of the policy focuses. The POC has developed and implemented a new series of support tools, mechanisms and procedures that provide a framework for expanded co-creation for the action plan and from which to further build for future action plans.

POC Developed Tools, Mechanisms and Procedures:

Strengthened collaboration between line ministries (LFPs) and central government (POC) through the implementation of formal feedback mechanisms and regular on communication support and guidance with all actors in order to be efficient to coordinate planned actions.

The creation of sustainable systems and tools to foster and develop capacity within the public administration aims to promote coordination and engagement between all channels such as society and international organizations to develop and implement lasting governance reforms. These systems are intended to also encourage capacity building within the PMO and LFP institutions on OGP principles and processes and their integration into policy development.

Management Framework

- Methodology: The POC developed the methodology framework for the development of the upcoming OGP Action Plan. The framework is based on the mechanisms and processes related to Albania's Integrated Planning System.
- Stakeholder Consultations: The POC oversees the consultation process between LFPs and stakeholders for each of the four proposed policy areas. Each policy area is to conduct 3-4 stakeholder consultations in collaboration with the POC. An additional stakeholder consultation will be carried out following the drafting of the action plan.
- Management Calendar: Designed to facilitate accountability and ensure all procedures are appropriately followed the POC has created a management calendar with all intermediary tasks involved in the development of the action plan.
- OGP Website: The POC ensures the OGP website is updated with all the relevant reports, contributions and supplementary information for effective and informed stakeholder participation.

Process Reporting Framework

- Consultation Report Requirement: Following each consultation initiative each LFP is required to deliver a structured, but brief report based on a specific framework. These reports focus on stakeholder participation during the consultation such as reflecting on the level of engagement, identifying areas for improvement and how this may be achieved in the next consultation and recording all stakeholder feedback. These reports facilitate dialogue between the POC and LFPs and enable for improvements to be made on an on-going basis and are published on the OGP website for public consumption.
- Report Framework and Templates: To facilitate reporting that captures the issues of focus through an easy to complete format that does not overburden the LFP with requirements and report writing the POC developed report frameworks with specific questions as opposed to requiring open-ended generalized reports. The templates focus on evidence/ emphasis on identifying areas for improvement regarding engagement and identification of areas where to improve engagement
- Quality Check for Reports: The POC developed structured templates to provide feedback to the LFPs on their reports. Answers are flagged as incomplete, partial or complete with recommendations and comments provided by the POC. This system provides a formal and consistent means of feedback to foster consistency in reporting as well as support improvements to stakeholder engagement and participation.
- Quality Check for Prioritization: The POC provided quality control of the prioritization process ensuring all ideas are included and evaluated using the prioritization template (discussed below under 'stakeholder contribution mechanisms') to ensure transparency and fairness in the evaluation and selection process.
- Oversee the entire process: The POC have ensure through drafting all the methodological package and all instruments in order to better ensure the participatory approach and stand the co-creation standards.

Stakeholder Engagement Tools & Mechanisms<sup>8</sup>

Informational Tools

- OGP Stakeholder Brief: This brief provides an overview of the OGP process for stakeholders. It looks to promote participation through by highlighting the independence of the IRM framework and the opportunities that the OGP process offers for stakeholders to partake in policy making and governance. Policy Area Specific Stakeholder Brief: This brief focuses specifically on the policy area being proposed in order to spur brainstorming and the development of ideas as well as to equip stakeholders with sufficient information to engage on the topic with contributions to the OGP process.

Stakeholder Contribution Mechanisms

- Prioritization / Criteria Guidance & Template: Based in part from the IRM's stated criteria the POC developed a prioritization framework with categories for verifiability, relevance to OGP principles, estimated impact, civil society engagement, feasibility, alignment with local, national and international priorities. This framework was accompanied with a guidance note for how LFPs can work with civil society to tailor the framework and assess contributed ideas in a transparent and fair manner. Consultation Meeting Ideas: Stakeholders are encouraged to provide comments, ideas and general feedback during consultations. All comments and discussions are recorded in the consultation report and have been published on the OGP website. Comments and suggestions made during consultations have been incorporated into the development of the action plan.
- General and Specific Ideas: In addition to in-person consultations stakeholders are encouraged to provide feedback and ideas outside of the consultation meetings. Both word and googleforms formats provide opportunities for stakeholders to contribute. A 'general ideas' version focuses on broad issues and solutions relating to the policy focus, meanwhile a 'specific ideas' version enables stakeholders to elaborate and refine their ideas within the format of the OGP requirements. All ideas contributed have been published and evaluated using the prioritization framework.

Collaboration with LFPs

- Partnered Presentations for Stakeholder Consultations:

To encourage informed participation the focal point of the POC coordinates with the LFP to facilitate presentations for the stakeholders. The POC also presents in most consultations in order to outline the concept of OGP, outline methodological approach, present relevant examples from other countries and the ways in which stakeholders can contribute. The content of these presentations is tailored based on the weekly planning meeting, but broadly focuses on equipping stakeholders with the information and tools to utilize their expertise towards developing ideas relevant to the OGP Action Plan. Finally, the POC presentations emphasize encouragement and promotion of discussion and contributions often through prompts.

- Weekly Consultation Planning Meetings:

Each week the POC conducts online communication with the focal point of the LFP to address any issues in stakeholder engagement, flag potential areas of concern, discuss any adjustments in approach and develop the strategy for the next week. These meetings ensure the POC is aware of any issues and can support changes to meet OGP requirements. Further, they facilitate tailoring of any materials and presentations to fit the particular circumstance of the policy focus (e.g. one focal point may have less stakeholders participating and therefore the outreach strategy may have to be adjusted).

- Remotely Support & Guidance: In addition to the more structured meetings the focal point of the POC is available via email, online platforms, phone for regular check-ins with the LFPs. Communication is encouraged and has been facilitated by the feedback procedures established, thus, promoting more cooperation between the POC and LFPs.

ANNEX 3: Participation, Consultation and Co-Creation Process

One of the primary objectives of Action Plan OGP 2020-2022 development process was to improve the level of engagement with civil society, citizens, and other stakeholders in its development. Significantly advancing civic participation presents a substantial challenge.

To facilitate progression in stakeholder engagement towards the Action Plan, but to also provide a foundation from which to increasingly improve civic engagement the Government Point of Contact (POC) prioritized a close dialogue with the Lead Focal Point Institutions (LFPs) and the development of a framework with materials and tools. This approach aimed to not only enable stakeholder participation and contributions, but facilitate accountability regarding the incorporation and consideration of stakeholder contributions. Further, this approach has taken into consideration the integration of OGP recommended processes into government systems which can be further elaborated and developed over time.

Collaboration during COVID-19

Pursuing this objective during the COVID-19 pandemic produced additional challenges as avenues for consultations were severely limited and largely confined to online modalities to ensure physical distancing. Facilitation/ adaptations to online only modalities the POC worked through the entire process closely with the National Agency for Information Society (NAIS / AKSHI) also a close collaboration to facilitate online feedback mechanisms and support timely and comprehensive upload of relevant materials. Additionally, the POC provided the LFPs with a guidance brief on facilitating online consultations and stakeholder dialogues based on OGP's recommendations and reference sources.

Efforts to Increase Collaboration

Both a broad outreach and targeted approach to stakeholder engagement was pursued to increase collaboration during the action plan development process.

Targeted Approach

To promote the active involvement of stakeholders with an interest in the policy areas of focus the LFPs utilized the list of registered civil society organizations (CSOs) compiled by the Agency for Support of Civil Society in order to identify and contact all CSOs whose focus is either directly or indirectly related to their policy area of focus. This approach aimed to establish a personal and collaborative approach to stakeholder involvement and engagement to promote ownership by CSOs and accountability for the LFPs. It is resulted that such an approach has facilitated the open dialogue and close collaboration with the CSOs assist in the building up relationships for on-going dialogue.

Stakeholders were personally contacted via emails that were sometimes followed up with calls, and were invited to participate in consultations, provided with supplementary information, provided with tools to provide feedback and input and conclusions from consultations (more on these in subsequent sections). To address instances where relevant CSOs may have not been included contacted stakeholders were requested to invite other stakeholders that may have an interest or relevant knowledge in the topic and the targeted CSO lists were expanded accordingly.

Broad Outreach Approach

To complement, a broad outreach approach was simultaneously pursued. All OGP AP materials and feedback mechanisms were published online. Further, an online public consultation period enables all stakeholders to provide feedback and a consultation feedback meeting with the Agency for Support of Civil Society enables the wider CSO community to provide inputs and feedback.

Mechanisms for Stakeholder Participation

To facilitate improved stakeholder participation in the development of Albania's 2020-2022 OGP Action Plan the POC in collaboration with the LFPs and NAIS established a framework to enable a broader scope of opportunities for CSOs and stakeholders to propose their own ideas for government reform as well as to discuss, refine and elaborate on government proposed reforms. These advancements are summarized by the figure below.

Stakeholder Support

A structured approach to dissemination of information to stakeholders was a hallmark of the 2020-2022 AP development process. In order to engage civil society, citizens, and other stakeholders throughout the OGP process stakeholders were provided with information relating to all aspects of the OGP AP development process including: background information, how to contribute and how their feedback would be utilized. A summary of these materials is outlined below.

Consultation Materials

Dialogues and Meetings

Thematic Stakeholder Consultations

To encourage informed participation the focal point of the POC coordinated with the LFP to conduct thematic stakeholder consultations with brief informative presentations to facilitate stakeholder dialogue and contribution. The LFPs explain the relevant details of their agency's work and suggested reform ideas and recommendations for the AP. The POC also presents in most consultations in order to outline the concept of OGP, outline Albania's approach, present relevant examples from other countries and the ways in which stakeholders can contribute.

The content of these presentations is tailored based on the weekly planning meeting, but broadly focuses on equipping stakeholders with the information and tools to utilize their expertise towards developing ideas relevant to the OGP Action Plan – with each presentation building on the previous consultation. Finally, the POC presentations emphasize encouragement and promotion of discussion and contributions often through prompts.

- The POC oversees the consultation process between LFPs and stakeholders for each of the four proposed policy areas
- The LFP of each policy area have conducted 3-4 stakeholder consultations in collaboration with the POC
- Stakeholders have been encouraged to provide comments, ideas and general feedback during consultations.
- All comments and discussions are recorded in the consultation report and have been published on the OGP website.
- Comments and suggestions made during consultations have been incorporated into the development of the action plan.

Stakeholder Feedback

Name:	Ms. Rudina Shehu	Organization / Affiliation:	Albanian Helsinki Committee	Position:	Project Coordinator
Comments / Issues Raised / Feedback / Ideas

- Ongoing training on the internal signaling mechanism, legal provisions and wider knowledge of the law on signaling by administration employees and members of responsible units
- Lack of alert cases or increase of registered alert cases.
- A deeper knowledge of the law will lead to better self-enforcement and increased awareness of addressing corruption cases.
- More reliable and transparent administrative bodies for the citizens.
- Taking measures by the authorities at the central and local level, for the review of the professional profile (job description) of the members of the Responsible Units, in the internal and external signaling mechanism.
- Members of Responsible Units with very high integrity and who have sufficient professional training to understand and implement the law.
- Increase the credibility of the mechanism set up to fight corruption, build the necessary capacity to implement the signaling mechanism and protect whistle blowers.
- Drafting annual reports in detail regarding the registered cases of corruption, administrative investigation, decisions taken by the competent bodies. Publish them on the websites of the responsible bodies in order for the public to have access and build trust in the transparency shown for the fight against corruption.

By publishing the cases handled and the manner of treatment, the level of trust, awareness, transparency in the competent bodies dealing with the fight against corruption will increase and more cases will be reported in the future.

- Increase of external control by HIDAACI to the units as well as strengthening of the external signaling mechanism (by the employees directly to HIDAACI). The dependence of the units on superiors directly prejudices the process of the internal referral mechanism, so the HIDAACI should be strengthened in parallel. Lack of autonomy in handling reported cases as they depend directly on the management of the institution.
- Increasing the independence in the functioning of the Responsible Units and in the handling of the registered cases of signaling.
- Registered cases of internal signaling will be handled more independently.
- Transparency in the way of handling registered cases of corruption, publication of decisions taken by the competent bodies for these cases, increase of human capacity to handle registered cases of corruption and placement of people with high integrity in handling cases.

Issues Raised / Feedback / Ideas

Suggestions for reviewing measures and activities for the Anticorruption component: Objective of Integrity

For objective 2.1:

- Activity 2.1.6 to pass first in the ranking as the whole process of developing an Integrity Plan will be based on this methodological instrument - integrity risk assessment.
- Also within this objective to detail the ML measures related to the approval of the PI (ie not to remain only in the drafting of Integrity Plans);
- Provide activities / measures for the process of drafting an Integrity Plan for the Institutions of ML and MoJ.
- Provide activities for the process of drafting Integrity Plans for local self-government units / municipalities in reference to the number provided in the AP 2020-2023, for the period of time that will be covered by this action plan;

For objective 2.2:

- Specification of activity 2.2.1 defining a methodological instrument on IP monitoring for all central government institutions (not only MoJ); the time limit provided for the realization of this activity to be before the start of the IP monitoring process of the MoJ;
- Forecast of a similar activity as above, but for local government; The foreseen deadline for the realization of this activity is before the start of the IP monitoring process for the 6 municipalities that have approved IPs.
- Following activity 2.2.2 provide for the establishment of monitoring groups for the 6 municipalities of the country that already have an integrity plan (5 of them).
- For activity 2.2.2 to review the deadline taking into account the start of this monitoring process: one year of IP implementation from the moment of its approval as well as the period of development of the methodological instrument for IP monitoring (perhaps a suggestion can to be 6M First2022);
- Activity 2.2.2 to be replicated for those municipalities that will follow a process similar to the MoJ for monitoring IPs after the first year of their implementation.

Comments The contribution of Civil Society in this plan OGP Action for the component dedicated to the fight against corruption, 2020-2022 is seen in two main moments:

- ✓ First in the design of methodological instruments
  - ✓ Second in monitoring the implementation of Integrity Plans
- Increasing Transparency related with public Procurement contracts / PPP
- Improvement of the regulatory package regarding the strengthening of the integrity of the public servant

STAKEHOLDER FEEDBACK

Name:	Rudina Mullahi	Organization/ Affiliation:	UNDP	Position:	Project Manager
I	Improving the communication channel with citizens through an intelligent chat implemented on the official website.
F	Due to the situation created by the Covid-19 pandemic, ADISA integrated centers were closed and it was often impossible for citizens to complete the online application process without the assistance of a service counter. This chat was implemented during the pandemic period on the website as the green number of the Public Services Information Center could not be functional since the closure of the offices.

I Implementing an intelligent chat on the official website would improve and facilitate the work of staff during the assistance process and would enable remote assistance without having to show up at the counter.

STAKEHOLDER FEEDBACK

Name:	Jolanda Trebicka	Organization/ Affiliation:	EuroPartners Developments Center	Position:	Expert
Issues Raised	The expert outlined three specific points that could be considered in the government's further work to improve fiscal transparency: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. The first recommendation was related to the transparency of the budget at the local level: following the work done by projects at the local level for the preparation of the document Citizen's Budget at the local level (Municipality), which has already been produced and published, but it was recommended to work for simplifying the language and presentation of the document to be understandable to any audience.</li> <li>2. The second recommendation was related to budget transparency at the central level: Specifically, in the budget implementation phase, despite the work done in periodic publications of budget execution reports, it is important to continue working to simplify these reports to be understandable by the citizen and not just to budget experts.</li> <li>3. The third recommendation was related to one of the previous recommendations left in the pre consultation survey of CSOs: 'publication of concession contracts', for which the work so far is assessed and which are published in the register of concession contracts, but more work had to be done for monitoring the concession authorities on the basis of performance.</li> </ol>
Feedback	Work is in progress to increase the number of contracts that will be monitored periodically.
Ideas Suggested	Creating the opportunity for access to materials for all interested parties, consequently the materials developed and presented, is suggested that in the following phases to be in Albanian language.

Other Comments	After receiving these ideas, the MoFE coordinator thanked the expert and after that summarized the contribution and stated that these ideas will be reviewed in order to address possible measures as part of the NAP OGP 2020-2022, meanwhile for the third issue raised, explained that starting from 2019, the MoFE role in monitoring concession contracts has been strengthened, since the entry into force of the amended Law 'For PPP and Concessions'.

Name:	Merita Toska	Organization/ Affiliation:	Co-PLAN	Position:	Economic Development Expert
--------------	--------------	---------------------------------------	---------	------------------	-----------------------------

Issues Raised	The expert practically addressed four main points / pre-conditions that need to be worked on: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Operability of Municipalities in the AGFIS System. It was considered that currently, major of the municipalities, except Tirana, the other continue to process physical documents, as well as to keep financial statements in excel sheets (or rarely in financial programs such as alpha, finance 5, etc.). Therefore, it was suggested that initially work to be done for the access of local budget institutions into AGFIS.</li> <li>2. Unique accounting system - stressed the need and importance that all municipalities should use and apply the same accounting standards, as this causes further problems for tracking, auditing and monitoring information.</li> <li>3. The taxpayer system should be the same for all municipalities, as different municipalities treat the taxes they managed differently.</li> <li>4. Publication and access to the Government Financial Statistics data to the public, illustrating with the case of BoA system which presents and publishes statistics in a structured and comprehensible manner.</li> </ol>
----------------------	---

Feedback	As a conclusion before the closing of the meeting it was agreed that the present and contributing Civil Societies will bring the proposals and in writing via email or questionnaire to be documented as evidence for the consultation process. It was also agreed that the following documents will be forwarded by email as proceeded up to this stage and will be published on the OGP website in accordance with visibility principle.
-----------------	--

Ideas Suggested	Mrs. Toska proposed how this initiative can be effective, and in this regard the work should start from diagnosing problems in the first stages and not in the last, which is monitoring and auditing, so some pre-conditions must be met to promote and increase the fiscal transparency.

Other Comments	The OGP Coordinator thanked for the issues addressed and noted that some of these suggestions are part of the proposed measures and will be addressed in the future to be addressed in the action plan.

What do you think are the most important issues the Albanian Government should prioritize to improve fiscal transparency and why?	-citizen participation; -set clear targets and performance management -the role of auditing process in the budgetary	Public private partnerships agreements and detailed budget should be produced, civic education on fiscal transparency and all governmental institutions in charge for reporting on fiscal transparency should produce user friendly reports with clear and understandable language for an average citizen
1.1 Briefly describe the overall idea	Public participation refers to the variety of ways in which the public – including citizens, civil society organizations, community groups, business organizations, academics, and other non-state actors – interact directly with public authorities on fiscal policy design and implementation. The interactions range from one-off consultation, through face to face deliberation, to ongoing and institutionalized relationships	Every central and local institution should publish on their webpage the detailed budget followed by every procurement they have proceed with, every revenue, expenditures, public information about the salary system and other beneficial status their employees have.
1.2 What is the problem the idea will address?	The citizen participation in executive budget preparation is less than it should be.	Corruption Perception that citizens have on governmental bodies will be lower if every citizen would have access on fiscal information, furthermore, the level of transparency would increased
1.3 Main objective of idea	To make the right to public participation more practical and meaningful, it should be implemented a program to strength citizen engagement. Civil society organizations engaged in budget-focused work contribute to public expenditure management and oversight in several ways.	increase the public trust with regard to government work

2.1 Briefly describe the overall idea	Set clear targets and performance management	Create an independent network comprised of CSO-s and citizens with knowledge on fiscal transparency to monitor the governmental institutions and their budgeting process
2.2 What is the problem the idea will address?	Sometimes there are not clear targets during the budget process formulation, so there is a need to accomplish this thing.	increase the citizen participation transparency
2.3 Main objective of idea	To even further increase budget transparency, governments need to provide more comprehensive budget information. This can be an issue of a government's capacity, and so donors and civil society can support progress by providing technical assistance.	Fight the corruption perception
3.1 Briefly describe the overall idea	The role of auditing in the budgetary process
3.2 What is the problem the idea will address?	I think that in Albania should strength the role of auditing in the budgetary process. It is very important to control how well the government executed the decisions and plans in the budget.
3.3 Main objective of idea	Role of auditing provide one of the few sources of critical and independent information on the impact of the budget on public well being and economic development.
Name/Surname	S.D	Blerta Kalavace
Name of Organization	University of Tirana	Institute for Development, Research and Alternatives;
What kind of institution are you affiliated with	University	Development NGO;
What is the primary aim of your institution?	Academic	IDRA promotes the values of freedom and democracy, free market economy, and civil society, and continuously serving the democratization of the Albanian society and the process of integration into the European Union.

Please provide any feedback on how we can support more participation and engagement from civil society on this and other initiatives	I suggest to create an 'intermediate organization' that can to link citizens with government in cases of budget process formulation. In many developing countries, citizens prefer not to contact government officials with complaints (due to the fear of harassment from corrupt officials) and are more comfortable dealing with non-governmental organizations to address such issues. For that reason I suggest this specifically 'intermediate organization ', to increase the civil society engagement.	Invite Civil Society in decision making and policy making;
